We have 600m internet users, some of them not well-educated, says NCS coordinator

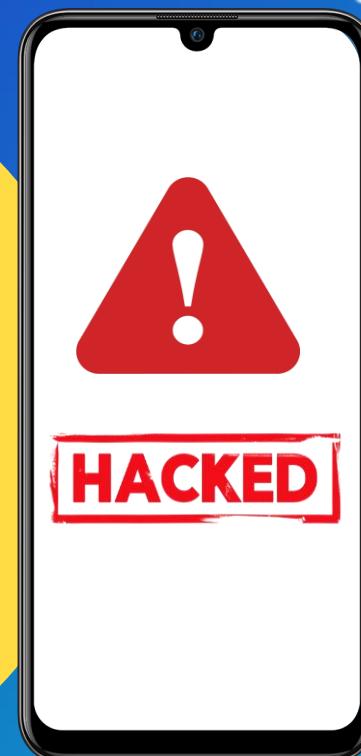

India is the most cyber-attacked country in the world, revealed National Cyber Security (NCS) coordinator Lieutenant General Rajesh Pant while inaugurating the Cyber-security Centre of Excellence on Tuesday.

In a major cyber security survey, India has emerged as the most attacked country. At least 1.5 crore Android devices in India have been infected by malware without the knowledge of the users. According to a report by cybersecurity solution firm Check Point Research, a new variant of the Agent Smith mobile malware has quietly infected around 2.5 crore devices in India.
