INTRODUCING SM WATCHES

Celebrate Time

Dear All,

In reference to the recent orders from the Government of India allowing movement of essential products.

We are happy to let you know that a large number of Modicare products come under the essential products category as defined by Government of India. In order to resume normal service on essential items we have decided to split our portfolio into essential and non-essential products.

For your convenience we have on our website split the ordering of essential and non-essential items. If you order essential items from the list enclosed here we will try to deliver these products on our best efforts basis subject to permission from local authorities during the lockdown. If your order consists of non-essential items then we will only be able to deliver after the lockdown is over.

Regards,
Modicare Management
